

FIND OUT ABOUT THE COLORS THAT GO WELL WITH PURPLE

Purple is a very perplexing colour. It mainly represents peace of mind, creativity and luxury. And when it comes to incorporating purple into home design or fashion, it leaves people stumped as many people either find it too bold or too difficult to pair up with colors that go well with purple.

Now, the reason behind this though could be that purple seems foreign to many people because it is not as naturally occurring as blue or green. It could also be that this colour is often associated with dark magic or mysticism, but these are just theories.

But the truth is, like many other colours, purple is also easy to experiment with and you don't need to study design to know that. All you need is a general understanding of the theory of colour.

Now to help you out in choosing the colours that go with purple, we have mentioned below details of a few of the colours that make a perfect combination with purple. So scroll down and continue reading to find out all the information.

What are the colors that go well with purple?

As there are many different colours in the colour palette, we have written below details of 5 colours that go with purple. So the colour combinations are as follows:

1. Purple and Green- This is that one perfect combination that you might be looking for as aubergine colour schemes was and will always be in so much style, after all it is backed up by the theory. These two contrasting colours, green and purple go perfectly together in the harmony like you must have come across beautiful deep purple and dark green living rooms that look pretty royal.
2. Purple and Blue- Blue and Purple is definitely the combination of dreams as this combination will remind you of your early childhood and cotton candies. Even a palette of blue, green and purple is considered to be so cool, easy on the eyes and deeply relaxing.
Also you will be amazed to know that the famous apartment from Friends also benefited from a colour palette blue and purple.
3. Purple and Brown- Purple with Brown is no-brainer and it is one of those colors that go well with purple. As you also must have noticed that plum or dark purple usually looks amazing next to coffee, tan or beige shade of colours. And if this combination is paired in an outfit, the overall combo gives a more professional and muted look with just a little hint of colour.
4. Purple and Mustard- This combination is best for the people who are too much into fashion, in simple words fashionistas. When you incorporate more purple with mustard in your wardrobe, then this is a win-win combo for you. Both of these colours not only balance out each other but they also make you look good and feel royalty.

5. Purple and Grey- Even though the complementary colours of purple are green and yellow, you can also never go wrong with a neutral grey. Actually when the scheme of the colour is more say cream, subdued, beige and white, Grey is the colour that goes well with purple. Also not the obvious choice for many, but for this particular scheme of colours, orange complements quite well with purple and it can definitely liven up the neutral palette like grey.

Conclusion

Purple is one of those colours that can make you look royal, inside out. Like mentioned above, the truth is that purple is that colour which is easy to experiment with and you really don't need to study design to make its combinations. There are many colors that go well with purple but some that stand out among all are blue, mustard, grey, brown, green and pink, as mentioned above. So if you want to try and pair up some colours with purple, then go for these some best selected colours which will make you look astonishing, professional, subtle and brave.

Resource Url- <https://greenhostit.com/color-that-go-with-purple/>